DUBAI: Skyline University College, BITS Pilani University, Amity University and Heriot Watt University reached the semi-finals of the inaugural UAE Red Bull Cricket Campus Twenty20 competition.

The semi-finals and the final of the event will take place on March 20, alongside the Emirates Airline Twenty20.

The winners of the tournament will represent the UAE at the Red Bull Campus Cricket World Finals in India next October.

The group stages produced tight battles between the institutions with the stand out performance coming from Skyline University's Salman Barbar who scored a breath taking 156 runs in an innings that his more senior contemporaries would have been proud of producing.

Barbar's team comfortably beat Madonna University, RAK to reach the latter stages while, BITS Pilani easily saw off American University of Sharjah by six wickets.

Amity University also had a comfortable 8-wicket win against Manipal, chasing down 95 with five overs to spare. Heriot Watt University secured the last semi-final position with a resounding seven-wicket victory over American College of Dubai, after having restricted the opposition to 57.

The semi-finals will see Heriot Watt University play BITS Pilani University with Skyline University taking on Amity University for a place in the final.
